Online courses

- By purchasing online courses, you enable the development of new content. Thank you.
- Learning films and digital materials are unique and very elaborately produced. You may use them for your personal learning, but you may not distribute, share, modify, or edit them in any way. You will ensure that the materials are kept safe.
- If you wish to reuse anything, send me an email.
- The expertise has been carefully researched, prepared and composed. It has been done to the best of my knowledge and belief. Nevertheless, errors can creep in. If you discover errors, please report them immediately.
- The learning films guide you to discover for yourself. The use and execution is at your own risk. No liability is accepted. If you have any concerns about the procedure, you can contact me.
- Always take care of yourself, the environment and your fellow human beings. Be considerate and peaceful.
- There is no money-back guarantee. The courses are top.
- You have access to the purchased courses as long as Actionschooling exists. You can stream them and probably download them in the future.
- If a revised version of the learning films and additional materials are released, you will automatically get access to it. The latest version is always uploaded to the course portal.
- You can get support and ask questions by email. Use the forum in a decent way. You need a Threema account (www.threema.ch), if you want to communicate via a messenger. The extent of support is at my discretion. An immediate response to requests is usually not possible.
- The participation of whole school classes is possible at a strongly discounted price. A class license can be purchased for suitable courses.

Material boxes

- Material boxes are not sent to foreign countries.
- You are responsible for the borrowed equipment. You must pay for any damage caused by yourself.
- The borrowed boxes must be returned on time so that others can also benefit from them.

Live courses

- The live courses are instructed by me.
- Absolute safety and zero risk are an illusion. I take responsibility as a course instructor within reasonable bounds. The course contents are well thought out, the risks are calculated.
The participants are accompanied in a meaningful way. However, constant supervision is neither desired nor possible. The participants have a shared responsibility for themselves and the others. The participants follow my instructions, which the situations require.
- The normal rules of decency and behavior towards fellow human beings and nature also apply with Actionschooling. The course material is to be taken care of. In case of self-inflicted damage, the participant is liable.
- Insurance is the responsibility of the participant.
- The courses have to be paid in advance.
- The willingness to be filmed and photographed is a prerequisite for participation in the live courses. The footage will be used for Actionschooling, especially for the online courses. If you play a significant role in the footage, you will receive the online course free of charge.
- If you cancel an ongoing course, the full course fee is still due. A trial participation is not possible due to the large amount of work involved.
- Whole school classes can participate - price on request.

Feedback

I am very grateful for your feedback - positive or critical. You contribute to the further development of Actionschooling.

Privacy policy

- You will not be tracked or spied on by Actionschooling and your data will not be marketed. There are no advertising contracts and no deals with data collectors.
- You are obliged to provide correct information. Your personal information is used for purchase processing, access to learning materials, organization, support and the dispatch of the material boxes.
- You share responsibility for the security of your data. Choose a strong password and keep it safe.
- By using Threema as messenger, your messages are secure and remain encrypted in Switzerland.
- Webhosting, video platform and LMS (Learning management system) collect statistics by default. The payment service uses your data for the purchase process - the security corresponds to banking standards.
Your login to the course materials (LMS) is encrypted.
- Your behavior on the internet influences the data collection of other players (surfing behavior, browser used, pages visited, protection software, operating system, privacy settings, presence in social media, etc.). Actionschooling has no influence on this.
- Actionschooling is not actively present on social media.
- Only cookies required for the functioning of the website are used. There are no third-party cookies. Therefore, you do not have to deselect any cookies.
- You can request the deletion of your data by e-mail. This will also delete your access to the courses.

Exclusion

In case of willful misconduct (virtual and real) you can be prosecuted and excluded from Actionschooling.

I wish you a lot of joy in learning, in widening the horizon and in discovering the world.
